

Maryln J. Wilson, RN, BSN

Maryln is a Seattleite - born and raised in the Emerald City and a graduate of Roosevelt High School. Whenever she was asked as a young girl, “What do you want to be when you grow up?”- without hesitation, her response was, “A Nurse!”

To begin this lifelong dream, she travelled east of the mountains to wheat and wine country and attended Walla Walla College (now University) where she received her Bachelor of Science Degree in Nursing. Following her collegiate experience, she attended Loma Linda University to pursue graduate studies in Nursing Education and also work in the Loma Linda University Medical Center Neonatal Intensive Care Unit.

With her return to the Pacific Northwest, she began her association with multiple Plastic/Reconstructive surgeons’ practices which provided her with a fundamental knowledge of aesthetic medicine, surgery, and patient care. Included within this almost thirty years of clinical/surgical work, has been the opportunity to develop her knowledge and skill as an aesthetic nurse injector.

This began in 1980, in association with Kenneth R. Tucker, MD, when his practice was involved in clinical studies for the FDA approval of Zyderm/Collagen. This first “dermal filler” was the springboard to another adjunct to aesthetic medicine - facial rejuvenation with nonsurgical intervention. Over the last twenty-plus years Maryln has been involved with the evolution of “injectables” and the many products available to this realm of medicine. These include Botox, Dysport, Restylane, Perlane, Juvederm, Radiesse, and Sculptra.

Maryln has been a part of the Larrabee Aesthetic Team since October 2010.
